DEDICATION

FACULTY

MEMBERS OF THE GRADUATING CLASS:

Today you are Seniors. Tomorrow you will be Alumni of Loyola Academy. This transition should not, and it will not I am sure, sever the bond that unites you and Loyola Academy.

Loyola Academy is your school. As you leave on graduation, may you carry with you the conviction that Loyola Academy will always be your school. The influence she exerted in your training and development during your student days will be complemented by her continued interest in your subsequent career. In the fullest meaning of the term she will always be to each of you your Alma Mater. Her pride in you will be justified if you consistently adhere to the solid principles of Christian conduct absorbed while here.

The 1946 Graduation Issue of the Loyola Grad Prep is appropriately dedicated to the graduates of the Academy who gave the "last full measure of devotion" in the line of duty, serving their country. They are young men who sat in the same classrooms you now occupy. They put into practice in the camps, on ships, in the air and on the field of battle the principles they learned here. They are a credit to Loyola Academy. They are a credit to their country and their God. We rightly honor each of them with a golden star in our service flag. May the noble example of these, your fellow Alumni, serve as an inspiration to each of you.

"Teddy Bear" Bradley, powerful Loyola halfback, breaks into the clear for a long gain.

After hard practice sessions in August and early September, great things were expected of the '45 Ramblers. As the season turned out it was something of a disappointment in the win-loss column. But it was not a disappointment in fighting spirit and rugged play. The team gave everything it had and lost more than one game that easily could have gone the other way with a couple of breaks. This was "Hicks" Connelly's last season with the Ramblers. He was not ashamed to call it a successful one.

LOYOLA 19 SULLIVAN 0

The opening game augured well for the season with an easy win over our neighborhood rival, Sullivan. Bill Bradley scored Loyola's first touchdown of the season. Shortly after Sullivan got off a poor punt and "Deacon" DeCaluwe fell on the ball in the end zone for Loyola's second touchdown. In the second half Willie Roche scored on a twenty yard run off tackle. "Bobo" Cleary and "Pudgy" Nash were outstanding on the line.

ST. GEORGE 32 LOYOLA 13

In the second game played under the lights, Loyola lost a hard fought contest to its arch-rivals from St. George. Just before the half-time gun Ray Flanagan pulled down a long pass from Fred Dempsey for Loyola's first touchdown. It was only 13-7 at the half but the Dragons had too much power in the last two periods. Loyola's other score came in the fourth period on another pass from Dempsey, this time to "Brud" Maloney. The game was more closely fought than the score would indicate.

"Boom-boom" Maher gives opponents the hip and waves good-bye as he circles left end for a first down.

"Swede" Lindstrom snags a long pass from "Uno" Dempsey for another Loyola touchdown.

LOYOLA 41 ST. PATRICK 6

Next week Loyola got back on the win side of the ledger to take their first Catholic League start. The field was mucky and the players were wallowing up to their ankles in the mud. Loyola scored almost at will. Flanagan made the first touchdown about five plays after the opening of the game. Roche scored three times, Maher once, and Dempsey raced 48 yards with an intercepted pass for Loyola's last touchdown.

LOYOLA 21 DE PAUL 0

Still in stride Loyola took its last night game and its second in league competition. Bradley scored the first six points. Then Jim Sweeney scooped up a blocked punt and ran 30 yards for the score. The last touchdown came on another intercepted pass by Dempsey. The Loyola line shoved the heavier DePaul line all over the field.

ST MEL 12 LOYOLA 6

With the end of the night games came the end of our winning streak and our first loss in the league. On a mud sloshed field, St. Mel drew first blood on a blocked punt. They scored again in the fourth quarter, before Loyola put over its only touchdown on a pass from Dempsey to Lindstrom who bolted 35 yards for the score. This was a tough one to lose. It served notice that in Freddie Lindstrom Loyola had one of the up and coming ends in the city.

ST. IGNATIUS 14 LOYOLA 6

Once more on a muddy field Loyola lost a close one to the team that was later to be co-

Co-captains Bill Roche and Gene Mitchell who led the Loyola Ramblers through a hard-fought season.

Co-captain Bill Roche caught on the five yard line just short of a touchdown after a battering thirty yard run.

champ of the Catholic League and the City. St. Ignatius had scored twice and picked up two points on a safety before Roche broke loose on a 75 yard gallop for a touchdown in the fourth quarter. This game was marked by the savage tackling of Dick Keshen and the all around rugged play of the team.

ST. PHILIP 18 LOYOLA 14

It was becoming a habit. Loyola lost another closely fought game to St. Philip. Ahead at the half 7-6, thanks once more to Dempsey's accurate arm, Loyola let the Gaels push over two touchdowns in the second half. But after those twin scores Roche crashed over for another Loyola score. The game ended with Loyola hammering at the St. Philip's goal line and only lack of time prevented what looked like a sure winning touchdown. Opinion was just about unanimous that this was the best game the Ramblers played all season.

WEBER 24 LOYOLA 12

Weakness on pass defense lost this one for Loyola. Weber's running game was stopped cold by the tough defense of the Loyola line, but the Red Horde took to the air and that was the story of the defeat. Loyola threatened often but was able to push over only two tallies, one in each half.

LOYOLA 32 HOLY TRINITY 6

In the last game of the season, the Homecoming game, Loyola won a lopsided one from Holy Trinity, 32-6. For the first time all year Roche was unable to play because of a leg injury, but Dick Keshen did a good job as fill-in. Bradley scored the first touchdown and was followed shortly after by Keshen who ripped through tackle for six points. Flanagan made a beautiful one-hand stab of a pass for the third touchdown. DeCaluwe intercepted a pass to score and Lindstrom snared a pass for the last touchdown.

In a flashback on a four won, five lost Rambler season, co-captain Willie Roche was the outstanding player on the team. His fighting heart and smashing power made him one of the better fullbacks in the city. Freddie Lindstrom rapidly developed into the end that earned him North Section honors and the reputation as one of the best pass receivers and down field tacklers in the Catholic League. "Bobo" Cleary was the power in the line; when the pile got up he was usually on the bottom. Fred Dempsey showed unusual promise at the quarterback spot and his passing will be a decided threat the next two years. "Boom-boom" Maher's passing and running, Bill Bradley's bruising tackles, "Deacon" DeCaluwe's defensive play in the line, co-captain Mitchell's fight at guard, Jim Sweeney and "Pudgy" Nash's good work at the tackles, and Jack Flood's capable handling of right end, all must come in for mention. Dick Sweeney, sophomore tackle, and "Brud" Maloney, junior end, played good ball and will be heard from next year. To "Hicks" Connelly and the last gang of Loyola gridders he coached we say: "Nice going, coach — good work, fellows: you gave Loyola a team the school was proud to have represent it in the Catholic League. It was too bad, losing those close ones. But wait till next year!"

Freshmen Football

This year the freshmen football team was outweighed by just about every team they played. The boys tried hard but their lack of weight and speed rather discouraged them. They were an "on-off" outfit, mostly, it must be admitted, off. The opening game was under the lights on October 11. A big, clumsy DePaul team beat the smaller, clumsier Loyola team, 14-0. The tackling in this game was depressing. Nine days later a huge Fenwick team walloped the freshmen 40-12. The only bright spot on this otherwise dismal morning, was the running of Dave Cronin who bruised his way for both Loyola tallies. On October 30 the freshmen tasted victory for the first time, and sweet victory it was as they licked St. George,

7-6. The following week the freshmen scored their second and last victory, beating St. Ignatius, 18-6. Little Bill Mooney was outstanding in this and all games for his aggressiveness and hard tackling. On November 7 St. Patrick took the measure of the frosh, 20-7. On November 13 it was the same story as Holy Trinity won, 25-2. The last game of the season was played on November 17 against Weber. The frosh showed signs of vigor in this game but finally succumbed 25-12. The outstanding player on the squad in fight, faithfulness to practice and ability was given a trophy at the end of the season. Pete Hester won the trophy.

Cross Country Team

Champs of the Catholic League! That is the proud boast of the harriers of Loyola who brought home another trophy to the academy. Hard work pays dividends; the cross country team found that out. Headed for what seemed a mediocre season, they became champions through long, hard practice. In the first race of the season, the harriers finished third to DePaul and Mt. Carmel in a triangular meet, despite the fact that Ray Daly finished first. The following week the runners stepped up a notch, finished second to DePaul in another triangular meet. St. Leo's ran third. On October 20 the team traveled to Culver and lost badly to a strong Culver outfit. Following that the harriers took a dual meet from St. Ignatius and South Shore on successive weeks. Then the Culver team came here and once more beat the Loyola runners, but by a much smaller margin. Finally came the Catholic League championship meet where the harriers proved themselves. Bill Lambrecht finished second in the title race, Ray Daly placed fourth, and Harry Plate came in fifth. Langfeld ran ninth, Bill Sibert, a promising freshman, thirteenth, Bob Becker, nineteenth, and Harry Jacobs, twenty-third. The last race of the season was the Time's Meet. Although Lambrecht, Plate and Sibert were sick in bed, the harriers finished second. Bill Lambrecht, Ray Daly and Harry Plate were the three outstanding runners on the team, all of them finishing near the top in just about every race. And Mr. Dempsey, S.J., the coach, must not be forgotten. It was his ruthless measures during practice that developed another Loyola championship team.

Because the Thanksgiving football game with Senn was dropped, basketball practice began earlier this season. Even so Loyola was behind many of the other schools who began practice as early as September. The heavies opened their season against the more experienced Mt. Carmel squad and were rather soundly trounced, 53 to 31. In their next game the heavies got off to a good start against Joliet and built up a substantial early lead, until Harry Sullivan dislocated his shoulder. After the loss of Sullivan, Joliet slowly overtook Loyola and went on to win in an overtime, 41 to 39. Dick DeCaluwe was high point man with 17 points. Next the heavies went down to Sullivan, 37 to 26. Against St. Gregory, DeCaluwe with 18 points led the team to a 41-38 win. In another game with Joliet the team lost again, 52 to 35. DeCaluwe was high again with 13 points. Mt. Carmel came back and trounced the heavies, 39 to 15. The heavies took St. Gregory again, 30 to 26 and then were eliminated in the first round of the St. George tournament by Joliet. The Alumni, with Jack Dee hitting the hoop for 21 points, won a close one from the team, 48-45. Tuohy got 14 points in this game. The next game was dropped to DeLaSalle, 41 to 35. Lindstrom rang up 14 points. The heavies opened their league play against a tall DePaul five. DePaul won easily, 50 to 34. After this the heavies routed Holy Trinity, 46-33. In their next game Loyola upset the undefeated Weber quintet, 40 to 38. This was perhaps the best game the heavies played all season. Maloney, Sullivan and DeCaluwe each made 11 points. Loyola then fell victim to St. Ignatius, 46 to 21.

It was after this game that the new coach, Mr. John Tracy, decided to build his team for next year. Starting with the St. Mel game which Loyola dropped, 35-21, Mr. Tracy played the underclassmen almost exclusively. Loyola then lost to St. Phillip, 59 to 36. Maloney and Lindstrom each had 9 points. St. Patrick was the next team to beat the Ramblers, to the tune of 44 to 37. Sullivan was high with 10 points even though he played only half the game. Dempsey also got 10. The heavies then dropped a close one to DePaul, 35 to 31. In their next game the Ramblers felt the rare thrill of another win as they beat Holy Trinity for the second time, 44-32. Maloney got 10 points. In the next meeting with Weber however, the Red Horde triumphed, 30 to 25. The heavies dropped another game to the league sectional champions, St. Ignatius, 45 to 26. In another game with St. Mel the heavies again came out on the light end of the score, 51 to 28. Lindstrom and Cullinan each got 7 points. Loyola then dropped a close one to St. Phillip, 37 to 30. The heavies game-five now contained one junior, three sophomores, and one freshman, Packy Cullinan. These boys played an experienced St. Patrick team off their feet only to lose in the final seconds, 31 to 30. Early during the league play Loyola upset Senn, 25 to 23, in an independent fray. In their first meeting with St. George the Dragons came out on top, 35 to 30. In the last game of the season, a return game with St. George, the inexperienced underclassmen almost upset the Dragons, but lost in the closing seconds, 32 to 28. Lindstrom was high point man in this game with 11 points.

A lot of credit is due to Harry Sullivan and Dick DeCaluwe because they stayed with the team all season even though they knew they wouldn't play. DeCaluwe was captain of the team, and he also played on the north-section All-stars. Fred Lindstrom made the second all north-section team.

In wins and losses the lights' season could not be called successful, but the team fought hard and lost many a close one. There were heartbreakers but there were also games the team looks back on with great satisfaction, especially that last game against St. George. The lights had lost their first game with the Dragons by only one point and they were out for blood in the last game. "Boom-Boom" Maher got twenty points to lead the inspired lights to a 51 to 29 victory. Dan McIntyre hooped 14 points. Another satisfying game for the lights was their 46 to 41 win over St. Mel. Although six points behind at the half the lights rallied to win. Maher was also high point man in this game with 14. After this victory the lights lost two close ones, St. Phillips beating them 34 to 30 and St. Patricks, 27 to 24. Joe Thiel was high point man in the St. Phillips game with 10. The lights had lost their first game to St. Phillips 56 to 22; this game was a much different story. Another win the lights smacked their lips over was their 40 to 35 victory over Joliet who were south-section Catholic league champions. In the Fenwick tournament the lights lost a tough one to St. Ignatius, 32-26 thus being eliminated in the first round. Maher and Tom Cerney were given honorable mention on the north-section All-Catholic team. "Whitey" Moore played on the North-section All-stars who beat the south-section All-star team. Moore, Maher and McIntyre were the seniors on the team. McIntyre was the captain.

Lane, Burns, Wittingham, Pyott, Corbett, Bowen, Mr. Ratterman, S.J.

Bantams

The 1945 Bantams, Loyola's freshman and sophomore heavy-weight prospects for future years, won only seven games while losing fourteen. The reason for this poor showing can probably be traced to the policy of using all available freshman and sophomore strength on the heavy-weight squad in an attempt to build a topnotch Loyola winner for the next two seasons. With six sophomores and a freshman listed among the first eight men on the varsity playing squad, there was not too much talent left in the younger years for a successful Bantam-weight season.

Chuck Whittingham, "an honorary Sophomore" on game days, was high point man for the year, amassing a total of 114 points during the final half of the season. Chuck's usual 16 or 18 points a game did a great deal to keep Loyola in the running, even on losing days. Jack Corbett was next with 91 points, 41 baskets and 9 free throws.

Flies

The Fly-weight Basketball Team is composed of freshmen and sophomores under five feet eight inches who hope in future years to be playing on the Academy Light- and Heavy-weight squads. Exactly 26 players participated at some time or other during this year's twenty-three games. Every attempt is made to enable any freshman or sophomore with any basketball potentialities to distinguish himself.

This year's season was not too successful, ending with eleven wins and twelve losses. The year was climaxed, however, by four straight victories, the last one over our arch-rival, St. George, 14 to 13.

Phil Collins was high point man for the year with a total of 91 counters to his credit, thirty-six field goals and nineteen free throws. Phil made exactly half of Loyola's points in the final St. George game. Ed Walsh was second in point scoring honors with 79, and Frank Frische was third with 59. Ed Walsh distinguished himself in the personal foul contest, the officials "unfairly discriminating" against him exactly forty-one times.

Twice during the season the Flies successfully encountered regular Light-weight teams, from both Cathedral High and St. Clements.

Phil Reichmann gets some pointers from Coach Jerry Heffernan.

Bill Roche and Dick Keshen were the co-captains of the Loyola Boxing Team which finished the '46 season with a record of 3 wins, 2 losses, and a tie. With three wins in the first three meets it looked like an undefeated season in the offing, but a tough St. Mary's team of Burlington, Wisconsin and a rejuvenated St. Rita's outfit took Loyola's measure.

Roche was easily the outstanding fighter on the team. Bill won all his bouts hands down, one of them by a T.K.O. Bill also entered the Golden Gloves and lost in the finals of the north section eliminations. It was the first fight he had lost in his four years at Loyola. Jim Slattery was also outstanding on the team, winning four of the six bouts he fought. Jim too entered the Golden Gloves, but lost in the semi-final north section eliminations. Charlie Cole and Frank Scheid also had good records, each with four wins and two losses. Phil Reichmann lost a couple of very close ones to end up with two wins and three losses. Freshman Tom Con-sidine got better as the season went on to finish with two wins and three losses.

At the St. Mary's bouts a crowd of 1200 filled the house to the rafters. There are only 4000 or so people in the town of Burlington and there was a blizzard raging to boot. The tie with Culver was really a moral victory. It was the first time in four years that Culver had been even tied. In the St. Gregory's meet Charlie Cole scored a bloody T.K.O., and Dick Keshen did the same in the first St. Rita's meet.

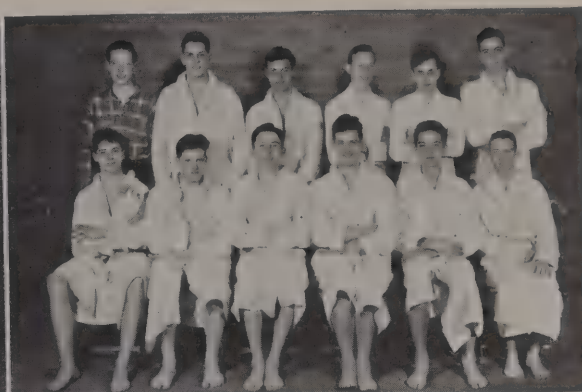

Jerry Heffernan, the coach, worked hard with this year's team. The Culver tie gave Mr. Heffernan much joy; he would have been even happier if the one close decision had gone to Charlie Cole instead of to his Culver opponent. Needless to say the large crowd of Loyola rooters thought it should have.

JUNIORS

The Junior Swimming Team did a little better than the Seniors, winning five of their seven meets, and coming in a much closer second to Fenwick in the City Catholic Meet. In fact they came so close that with a couple of breaks they might have ousted Fenwick from its too-long perch on top of the Catholic League. Larry McDonnell got some well-earned newspaper publicity for breaking the Junior breast-stroke record in the city meet, after Bill Johnson had broken the record the day before in the qualifying round. "Red" Conley kept his crown as city Junior diving champ. "Red" also came in third in the Senior city meet. Lew Nowlan and Dick Kinsella were the best of the Junior freestylers. Chuck Higgins, a freshman, developed fast as a diver.

SENIORS

The Senior Swimming Team ended its season with four wins, three losses, and its perennial second place to Fenwick in the City Catholic League meet. Dick Griesser was outstanding all year in the free style division. Dick came in second in the city meet. Gene Corley continued his graceful style of last year to cop the Catholic League diving championship. Bob Theisen, Bill Mallers, and Pat Burke showed good form in the free style races, and Bob Foley was the capable backstroker. Ed O'Rourke, another diver, took fifth place in the city meet. The able, affable, and willing manager of both the Senior and Junior teams was Charlie O'Donnell. Mr. Alex Wilson was once more the coach, and Mr. J. R. Dempsey, S.J., was the moderator.

Senior Track

The track team showed much early promise this year, but things didn't always work out the way the boys hoped. In its first trial at the Daily News Relays, the relay team of Elster, O'Brien, Ducey and Jacobs finished third in a field of four. The next of the big meets was the annual Loyola Relays. Here the team finished fourth out of ten teams, St. Ignatius copping the crown with ease. Harry Sullivan took a first in the pole vault for Loyola's only first. The other big meet of the year, the Catholic League championship meet, was held too late for the Grad Prep to make its deadline. High hopes were held out for the team and the boys vowed to make up for their relatively poor showing in the Loyola Relays. In the dual and triangular meets held during the season the team finished in the first slot a good five times, with three seconds to mar their record. In a meet with Senn and Ammundson the Loyola tracksters were forty-seven points ahead of Senn, with Ammundson picking up about 2 points. The team also licked Sullivan handily in a dual meet. Although the team took eight firsts in its meet with Culver they lost the meet by about four points. Jack Elster and Brian Ducey picked up plenty of points in the $\frac{1}{4}$ mile; Harry Sullivan in the pole vault; Bob Theisen in the shot put; Tom Ryan in the hurdles; and Bill Lambrecht, Dick Wellbank and Frank Formeller in the distances.

Junior Track

The Junior team did better than the Senior team in the Loyola Relays, finishing second to Leo. The boys picked up a first in the $\frac{3}{4}$ mile, in the pole vault and in the mile and $\frac{1}{2}$ relay. In the Catholic League meet the rain came down hard and heavy making postponement of several events until the Senior meet necessary. From the way things were going it looked as though Loyola would come in third. In the other meets during the season, the team had three firsts and three seconds. The Junior tracksters picked up most of their points this season in the distance events. The best of the distance runners were Dick Sibert, Frank For-meller, Schloderbach and Matt Cook. Carl Powers and Packy Cullinan picked up many points in the pole vault, Schnitzius, Bowen and Al Pyott in the shot put. Charlie Cole, Weaver, and Elmer Layden were the better dash men, and Matt Cook and Weaver placed often in the broad jump. Tom Cerney and Red Conley also grabbed points in the high jump. The team was missing loads of good talent because the freshmen were so bashful (or is it bashfulness?) in going out for the team. Still, with hard work and the vigorous coaching of Mr. Tracy the team was troublesome to its opponents.

Tennis

The Loyola tennis team failed to duplicate the showing of last year's championship team, and finished second in the Catholic League Tournament. Ray Fink and Bob Gelderman won the city doubles' crown, but Bill Donovan, playing first singles, was defeated, and Ray Smith, playing second singles, lost in the finals. A Junior team was organized for the first time this year and shows good prospects. Among the most promising new netters are Ray Smith, Cush Bissell, Don Maloney, John Stoeller and Bob Peckels.

Golf

As usual, the weather did much to handicap the activities of the golf team this year. The golfers travelled to Culver toward the end of May to take a severe beating from a superior team on its home course. The two or three other matches the team was able to play also ended in defeat. Whiston, Colford, Hafner, Nash, Kaiser, Wellbank and Hodapp were the better golfers on the team. Father Maurice J. Hussey, S.J., was coach of the team.

Intramurals

I

Intramurals this year were once more under the strong, moderator's arm of Mr. Francis Gutowski, S.J. "Bobo" Cleary and Dick DeCaluwe were his more than able assistants. These two boys deserve a real hand. They worked hard and long to make the intramural season the success it was.

The first thing on the year's program was the fall softball league. The weatherman was not too kind early in the year but enough games were played to enable 4C to legitimately claim the crown. With such stars in their aggregate as DeCaluwe, Ray Flanagan, Whitey Moore, "Pudgy" Nash, Dan McIntyre and Mickey Crowley the 4Cers were almost a cinch to win before the league began. They had a hard fight though with some of the other teams who didn't believe in advance rave publicity.

After safely tucking away the softball pennant, 4C went on to win the touchball championship just to prove they had the stuff. 4B put up a good fight but they didn't have quite enough to supplant the softball champs.

After the Christmas holidays the basketball tournament began. Once more 4C was in the thick of it but lost out in the final game to 3D who were crowned champs. "Brud" Maloney's late joining of the 3D team helped plenty. "Bobo" Cleary, Bill Sinks, Jim Donnelly and Bill Waldvogel were the backbone of the 3Ders, helped by Joe Lahart, Paul Lovell, and Jim Campbell.

In the freshmen-sophomore bracket 2E, helped by the late addition of Fred Dempsey, won the title.

In March Mr. Gutowski and his aids sponsored the annual intramural boxing tourney. This is a popular yearly intramural event at Loyola and the boys mixed it up well.

In April is held the annual Intramural Nite. The main attraction of this night is the finals of the boxing tournament. There are also novelty relay races, a ping pong tournament, an obstacle race and a handball tourney. Refreshments are served and everyone has a whale of a time.

In the spring there is another softball league, the winner of which has the temerity to challenge the faculty to a game. Last year the intramural champs barely nosed out the faculty team in the last inning, but this year the faculty, with new and powerful additions, is out to avenge the defeat.

Intramural sports are good. They develop friendly rivalry between the classes and give the boys who for some reason or other cannot participate in varsity sports a chance to compete in athletics.

Senior Sodality

The Sodality, according to its constitution, is intended in its fullest capacity to sponsor many cultural, educational, and social organizations. With this in mind twelve members of the faculty formed a program which was intended to bring the Senior Sodality of Loyola Academy into the rank of a sodality in the truest sense. This plan took the form of study clubs designed to develop experts in various lines of thought and action. With seven or eight sodalists in every club, they numbered fourteen: The Politics Club (Mr. Shields), The Gospel Drama Club (Fr. Maguire), The Recreation Club (Mr. Haas), The Consumer Cooperative Club (Fr. Rabaut), The Fine Arts Club (Mr. Hopkins), The Journalism Club (Fr. Legris), The Oriental Rites Club (Fr. Hussey), The Gospel Backgrounds Club (Fr. Suelzer), The Choir and Glee Club (Mr. Zeitz), The Psalms of David Club (Fr. Maguire), The Blacks and Whites Club (Mr. Haas), and The Mass Readers Club (Fr. Maguire).

The Recreation Club held a dance in March. The Blacks and Whites Club was an organization for instruction about the crusade against racial prejudice.

With all this added activity the Senior Sodality continued with the program it had started last year. The weekly meetings were alternately devoted to spiritual meetings and discussion meetings, during which the Sodality was divided into four groups. Mr. Tracy headed a group which discussed racial tolerance. Father Maguire's group discussed Christian Marriage. Mr. Shields' group dealt with Christian Social Justice for the Laborer. The fourth group, under the direction of Father Lovely, studied the beauties of the Mass.

The members of the Senior Sodality were chosen by a joint council of students and faculty members on the basis of interest, scholastic record, and qualities of leadership. Because of this the sodality was a hand-picked group of one hundred select students. Father Edward C. Maguire completed his ninth year as moderator.

Junior Sodality

The entire program this year was directed to giving the sodalists a fuller comprehension of what the Sodality should mean to them and to make them Sodality conscious.

Fr. Maurice Huser, S.J., has been moderator of the Sodality for two years. The meetings were alternately devoted to spiritual exercises and sectional discussions. The main exercises during the spiritual meetings were the recitation of the Little Office of the Blessed Virgin and the Rosary.

The sodality or sectional discussions was divided into four groups. One dealing with the Mass was moderated by Fr. Huser and Fr. Lowly, S.J. An inter-racial discussion group was under the aegis of Mr. Flagg. Another group concerned itself with Christian Social Justice under the direction of Mr. Dempsey. Mr. Rafterman and his group touched the problems of communism. At the beginning of these discussions, two or three sodalists presented a definite aspect of the individual problems. This was followed by questions from the floor and a general discussion. A few members of the faculty lectured or guest speakers. This type of meeting proved to be an overwhelming success with the sodalists.

Aside from Religious activity the Sodality sponsored gym socials for its members.

Jack Crocker was the prefect of the sodality. Jack Corbett filled the office of vice-prefect. Gene Berling was secretary and Lew Nowlan, treasurer. Bob Emmertinger headed Our Lady's committee and Michael Duffy was Eucharistic committee chairman.

The Sodality, the sodality newspaper, was for the first time incorporated into the sodality under the same moderation. Frank Agee edited the paper, with Bob Murphy and Ned Papp as co-moderators. The paper came out every two weeks with articles of current interest and L.A. news now and then.

The Prep

The Loyola Prep has completed its twenty-ninth year. Once more Mr. Thomas J. Water, S.J., was the moderator. Lou Lehr and Gene Dougherty were the capable co-editors. The News Editor was Bob Fiedle, assisted by Frank Ruffe, Dick Larkin, Jim Edward and Mike O'Donnell. The Sports Editor was Mr. Collier. John Bireley, Jack Duna, Dick Gether, Jack Roman, and Dan Wolynski turned their copy into him. Jim Edward also chose the jokes in the Exchange Column. Mike Schilitz was the copy editor, while Ted Leonard and Pete Bowman wrote the headlines. This year's Feature Editor was John Hayes. Jack Eiler and Art Bink were the summer men on the staff. Bink was also the Business and Circulation Manager.

Bergen Curran was the Literary Editor. The reporters were Frank Asel, Bob Gormoe, Mike Schilitz and Bob Fiedle. Each year, just after the semester ends, the staff of the Prep changes. The new editor is Mike Schilitz.

The Prep was memorable this year for the big Christmas issue the staff turned out. The printing and the pictures were all in green. Besides there were two extra pages with exceptionally well-done resumes of the football and cross country seasons. The staff is to be congratulated for a year of well-edited, almost errorless Prep. It is not easy to get out a newspaper. The boys worked hard and long to keep up the fine reputation for journalism that the Prep has had for many years.

Rostrum

The Rostrum has always been a pride and joy of Loyola. Debating is considered one of the more important extra-curricular activities because of the invaluable training it gives for effective public speaking in later life. By the time the boys have reached third year and graduate from the Gavel to the Rostrum, they are considered advanced enough to grasp the fine points of debating and acquire that finesse and polish which is so essential for anyone who is to uphold Loyola's honor on the rostrum.

There has seldom been a topic which is so deeply connected with the personal fortunes of the debaters as that of this year: Resolved: That every able-bodied male citizen of the United States should be required to have at least one year of full-time military training. The current interest in that topic was one factor in making debating very popular among the

Loyola was represented in the Catholic League Tournament by Dick Larkin and Ted Leonard, who upheld the affirmative side of the question, and John Hayes and James Elward, who upheld the negative. The chief event of the year was Loyola's own interscholastic tournament. Sprinkled in here and there were practice debates with the neighboring schools. Loyola also sent representatives to the Marquette mock trial of Germany and Japan.

The Rostrum and Gavel collaborated with a social held in the gymnasium on February 21, after a long afternoon of debating.

Mr. Theodore J. Tracy, who coached the Gavel last year, moved up to take over the Seniors. John Hayes was president; Jack Ramos, vice-president; Frank Sullivan, secretary.

The Gavel

When a man can stand up before an audience and speak out his thoughts with confidence and clarity, he has most of the requirements of a public speaker. That is what the Gavel, the Freshman-Sophomore Debating Society, proposes as its aim, to remove the shrouds of self-consciousness that envelops a boy in his first attempts at speaking before an audience. In the Gavel, this end is placed even before the technique of debating, which is more emphasized when the boys graduate to the Rostrum.

The debaters gain their first experience by intra-mural contests. A number of tournaments were held among the members of the Gavel. Then the boys went out to debate the other schools of the city on the topic: Resolved: That every able-bodied male citizen of the United States should have one year of full-time military training.

Aside from the regular intramural and inter-scholastic debates, each year the Gavel sponsors a Junior Debating tournament which is open to all the Catholic schools in the vicinity. Besides Alvernia, Saint Scholastica's, Saint George's, Fenwick, DeLaSalle, and others from Chicago, Marquette came from Milwaukee. This was the climax of the year.

In the purely social lines the Gavel co-operated with the Rostrum to hold a gym night on March 9. All the facilities of the gym were open to the debaters.

The Gavel has always been one of Loyola's most active and successful activities, and this year has been no exception. Fr. Arthur Lovely, S.J., was the moderator, and John Carpenter, the president.

The Band

Mr. Guido Mattei directed the band for the fourth year and Mr. Lawrence J. Flynn, S.J., was moderator. This year the band revived the custom of marching during the halves of football games. The band received several outside engagements: they played at a large Knights of Columbus meeting at the St. Ignatius gym in January, and again at the opening of the annual St. Ignatius Basketball Tourney. A large portion of the band took part in the Instrumental Solo Contest. The season was climaxed by the second Loyola Music Festival in the Community Theatre on May 10, which featured solos by the band members and a few featured guest artists.

Swing Band

The swing band built up a real reputation for itself this year. With Ray Kramer playing the alto sax, Bob Schnitzius the tenor, Michel McKiernan the trumpet, Ed Gorny at the piano, and Tom Riley beating the drums, the combo played at many high school dances throughout the city. The boys were good; their popularity attested to that.

The Torch Club

The Torch Club was organized some ten years ago by Father Raymond Mooney, S.J. "to promote school spirit among the student body by lending co-operation in all activities, especially those of an athletic nature."

Support of all Loyola activities is therefore compulsory for every Torch Club member. Absence from two home football or basketball games results in suspension. Members also do what they can to make the school play, the band concert, the oratorical contest, and all other non-athletic activities a success.

The biggest event on the Torch Club calendar each year is the sponsorship of the spring Tulip Trot. This is one of the outstanding social functions of the year. The Loyola gym is traditionally lighted for this occasion by the huge crystal ball that rotates in the center of the colorful decorations.

Membership in the Torch Club is elective. At the beginning of each year the active Torchers select new members from the student body on the basis of their record for school loyalty. Membership is evenly divided between athletes and non-athletes. All members must participate in at least one non-athletic activity.

It is the ambition of every Loyolan to be voted into the Torch Club, but the active membership must be kept small in order to foster the leadership and loyalty for which the Club was originally established.

Ray Flanagan was president of the Torch Club this year; Bill Bradley was the vice-president; Bill Roche, secretary, and Jack Flood, treasurer. The Tulip Trot this year was put over by the hard work of the committee headed by Jack Flood who was assisted by Jack Marguerite, Ray Flanagan, Bill Roche, "Bobo" Cleary, Bob Brennan, Larry Van Der Bosch, Bill LaVezzorio, and Dan McIntyre.

Mr. Patrick Ratterman, S.J., the moderator of the Torch Club, was largely responsible for the club's successful year.

Shutter Club

This year, another successful season was completed by the Loyola Academy Shutter Club. Mr. Henry Gelin, S.J. was the new moderator. John Elster was president and Robert Theisen, vice-president. Members of the Shutter Club took many of the candid shots for the Grad Prep.

In February, the club ran a contest, and prizes were given to those who took the best pictures. At the Meetings of the club talks were given by the members on the art of taking, developing, printing and enlarging snapshots. Each member is becoming an expert in the art.

The Stamp Club

An increasing interest in the hobby of stamp collecting is evident from the ever increasing membership of the Loyola Stamp Club.

The Stamp Club meets every week and the boys exhibit their collections and discuss the various tricks of the trade. Every quarter of the school year they hold an exhibition and award prizes for the most attractive designs and most original ideas. The members get their stamps from West Baden. In this way they not only get them at a greatly reduced price, but they also help the missions at the same time. Father G. M. Legris, S.J. is the moderator.

Alumni News

Letter

The News Letter began as a four-page mimeographed paper. By August, 1945, it had taken on two more pages and was printed. During the three years of its existence, it has supplied the graduates in the armed forces with news of their Alma Mater, and letters from their fellow alumni.

After most of the boys are out of the service, the Alumni News Letter will continue as the official alumni publication. Through the columns of this paper, the boys have been notified of the efforts to reorganize the alumni and to resume the pre-war social gatherings. The first attempt at this was a reunion of the alumni in the college lounge. This was followed by a banquet in the gymnasium on February 25, honoring the grads of 1938 to 1942. Successive banquets are planned honoring the other years. The publication of the News Letter and the efforts to reorganize the alumni have all been the work of Father

G. M. Legris, S.J. Lou Lehr was associate editor.

Through the instigation of Father Legris, the 1946 Grad Prep has been dedicated to the Loyola Alumni who have given their lives for their country. The News Letter supplied all the necessary information for the write-up of most of the servicemen and also their pictures. Further steps to honor the Gold Star servicemen are planned in the near future.

The Publicity Club

The Publicity Club is Loyola's youngest extra-curricular organization. The members of the club print signs and draw posters to supply the publicity for the school's other activities. Each week when orders for posters come, the work is divided into two sections, part to be done by members who come during the first half of the week and part by those who come the second half. The official meeting place of the Publicity Club is the tower room.

Mr. Zeitz, S.J., has taken over the duties as moderator of the club during the past year. Jack Lane is the president; Don Jones, the vice-president.

The Chesterton Club

The two-fold aim of the Chesterton Club is to foster interest in Catholic Literature and to inspire its members to be militant Catholic writers. In former years the emphasis was put on appreciation rather than on literary activity. But this past year the members have devoted half of their time to creative work, and the other half to lecturing on books and their authors.

The main theme of the year was the study of the prose and poetry of the Catholic Revival Period of English Literature. The program included various guest speakers.

In the line of creative work most of the members wrote essays, poems, and assorted parodies. Some of the members started on their literary careers by submitting several of their manuscripts to Catholic magazine publishers.

Acolytes

They don't get much credit, but it's a self-sacrificing bunch of fellows who make up the acolytes. They give up many precious hours of sleep to serve early Masses in the Faculty Chapel. The club has its hundredfold as well as its spiritual reward: a summer camp, gym nights, and a banquet. The priests of Loyola are indeed grateful for these servers, and all know the gratitude that Our Lord shows.

Grad Prep

There isn't much to say about the production of a yearbook. The staff worked hard to give the academy a good book. Originality in yearbooks is a difficult thing to attain. The added color, the stippled division pages, and the make-up of the candid section are new Grad Prep features this year.

The whole staff deserves a vote of thanks, especially the editor-in-chief, Lou Lehr who did not spare his Saturdays; Ted Leonard, Bob Festle, and Gene Dougherty who did more than their share of the work; and Frank Apel who typed and typed and typed. The photographers, Jack Elster and Art Bilek, worked hard and skillfully: let the book be their witness. Through the efforts of Jack Marguerite, the Business Manager, the Grad Prep was a complete financial success. Special thanks also go to Father Legris, S.J. who was the inspiration of the dedication and who helped so much in gathering the pictures and information.

This seems the correct place for the moderator and staff to thank Mr. Edward Bryan of the Pantagraph Printing and Stationery Co. Mr.

Bryan's help was invaluable and he was most generous with his time. The staff wishes also to thank Mr. Wally Mann of the Pontiac Engraving Co. and Mr. Beckett of the Kingsport Press for their kindness, help and patience. This was a hard year for materials—worse than any during the war—and without the generosity of our printer, engraver, and cover manufacturer the Grad Prep would not have been possible.

Mrs. John F. Bowman, President

The Mothers' Club

The first meeting of the 1945-46 season was called to order by Rev. Ara F. Walker, S.J., Principal of Loyola Academy, who outlined the aim of the club, which is to provide a scholarship fund. The informality of the club was stressed by Fr. Walker who introduced the new President, Mrs. John F. Bowman. The first speaker of the season was the Rev. Ralph A. Gallagher, S.J., Dean of the School of Sociology of Loyola University. He talked on a subject traditionally popular with the Mothers: "boys."

Rev. Eugene Mangold, S.J., Assistant Principal of the Academy, discussed at length the reason and necessity for rules and regulations in a school.

Rev. James F. McGinnis, S.J., former Assistant Principal at Loyola and for the past years, an Army Chaplain, combined his talk on the training of boys with a few of his experiences on the Pacific Islands.

The October Dessert-Bridge of which Mrs. James Ryan and Mrs. Charles Theil were chairman, was a notable social and financial success.

At Christmas time a Dessert-Bridge was held in collaboration with the Loyola University Mothers' Club. Mrs. M. McGrath and Mrs. J. Bowman were chairmen at this party. The annual Day-of-Recollection was held on March 26.

At all the meetings, refreshments were served, and Fr. Walker invited the members of the Faculty to meet with the Mothers.

The Tea that closes the year's activities is given in appreciation of the generous co-operation of all the Mothers during the year.

Fathers' Club

Rev. Gerasime M. Legris, S.J., and Mr. Charles N. Owen brought the Fathers' Club through another year of successful activity. As ever, the aim of the Fathers' Club has been to bring the students of Loyola and their dads into closer and more friendly relations with the members of the Faculty. The Club contributes to a unique fund for maintaining in the school boys of good scholastic standing who would be unable to do so because of financial need.

In September, the dads of the Freshmen brought around their sons so everyone, students, dads and Faculty, could get acquainted. In October, there was a celebration for the whole family. Mr. Elmer Layden obliged as guest speaker, and Mr. Connelly showed off his boys and their plays in a Football Clinic.

The Fathers' Club has one financial venture yearly, and that's the annual All Professional Vaudeville Show in November. Les Lear, Sr., acted as Master of Ceremonies. In December, the dads wound up the year with a banquet for the football players, the Band and cheer-

A night in February saw the facilities of the gymnasium completely at the disposal of the fathers and sons. In March, the students displayed their talents at an amateur show in the gym. In April, the fathers gathered in the Madonna Della Strada for the Annual Day of Recollection, and they rounded out the activities of the year with a Communion breakfast.

Much credit is due to the Fathers' Club who together with the Mothers' Club, has made the parent-teachers relationship at Loyola so amiable. Through this organization the fathers have met the teachers and thus the teachers were better able to understand the problems of the student.

The fathers also became acquainted with the school and being in such close contact absorbed a little of the school spirit. This was observed especially at the football games where some of the dads yelled just as loud, if not louder than their sons.

The Dramatic Society

Grease paint, painted canvas, bright lights, and applause — that is the theatre in essence, and that's what stage-minded Loyolans learned to love this year. Under the direction of Mr. Walter L. Bamberger the students launched a first attempt at year-round activity. With plans laid the previous year and during the summer, the club called for members and then set to work. The Club's first dramatic effort was "A Message from Khufu." This was a one-act play, the story of an Egyptology professor and some deserters from the Foreign Legion who found an unummified mummy and tried to cash in on it.¹

With this infective spirit of accomplishment,

Loyola inspired other schools to try the same, and sponsored a one-act play contest at Loyola Community Theatre. On the two holidays following Thanksgiving, six girls' schools were vying for one trophy and six boys' schools for the other. Loyola captured first prize in the boys' division with a gripping rendition of "Khufu."

Loyola received a commendation from the representatives of Bishop Shiel for initiating such an important step both in the dramatic field and in furthering the co-operation of the Catholic schools with each other. Loyola plans to make this an annual event each year, increasing in importance and success.

CALENDAR

LOYOLA'S BATTLE OF THE BOOKS

BEAT SULLIVAN LOSE TO DRAGONS

Football leads to victory on one hand and defeat on the other. Sparked by Bradley, Roche and DeCaluwe, the boys started the year off right by routing Sullivan 19 to 0. And when it looked as though we were flying high, who should come along and take the wind out of our sails but the Dragons from St. George. Led by Red Coutre, Georges downed Loyola 32 to 13 for their first defeat of the year. Coutre took scoring honors for St. George while Flanagan and Maloney scored a touchdown apiece for Loyola on passes from our own Sammy Baugh, Fred Dempsey.

Band Swings Out

"Ten Little Indians" couldn't make more noise than the Loyola Swing Band, newly formed and swinging out with "Sweet Lorraine" as their theme song. They're red-men even down to their shirts, maroon in color; gold ties, dark trousers and sport coats complete the outfit. Ray Kramer leads the band and plays the sax, and Tom Riely beats the drums. Mike McKiernan toots the trumpet, Don Ludwig and Jim O'Riely take care of the piano and the sax section is completed by Bob Schnitzius, Johnny Smith, and Joe Shelly.

Rah! Rah!

Two of Loyola's leading clubs united this year to put the flame of school spirit into the heart of every Loyola man. The Torch Club, headed by Ray Flanagan, and the Prep, headed by Lou Lehr, had as their goal bigger attendance at football games, more members in the school clubs, and an increased interest on the part of every student in his school.

INFLATION HERE

Fr. Mangold, S.J., assistant principal, instituted a new ruling at Loyola this year, clamping down on smoking. The fine for each violation was not to be less than the sum of one dollar. Fr. Mangold's favorite extra-curricular activity is making up new jugs, putting them to work, and watching the results.

THERE HAVE BEEN NO CHANGES

Fr. Walker, S.J., and Fr. Mangold, S.J., were still upholding their respective positions as principal and assistant principal upon our return. But if you should ask any of the fellows how they stand with them, they'd say, "Tops! You couldn't find two better men for the job."

I-M SEASON OPENS

Intra-mural baseball has begun at Loyola. Mr. Francis J. Gutowski, S.J., assisted by "Deacon" DeCaluwe and "Bobo" Cleary have inaugurated a fall softball league. 4-C is currently winning in the senior division.

TEACHERS ON TOP IN YEARLY TIFF

Loyolans realized this on September seventh, the day classes started, when they discovered it was for them "For Whom the Bell Told." The doors of old L.A. swung open to a capacity crowd this year. The enrollment is around six hundred and fifty, the highest in the school's long history. The "X" course was continued this year, although it was feared that it might become a peacetime casualty.

The school year officially begun with the invocation to the Holy Spirit and the Mass of the Holy Ghost. Fr. Walker, the principal, celebrated the Mass, and the sermon was delivered by Captain Joseph Hogan, S.J., a Chaplain with Patton's Army in its march from St. Lo to Berchtesgarden.

Nine New Faculty

Nine new Faculty members joined the roster of Loyola for the school year, 1945-46. Including three Priests and six Scholastics, the teachers were prepared to devote most of their time to the large under-classmen groups. Among the arrivals were Fr. Amberg, S.J., Fr. Lovely, S.J., and Fr. Rabaut, S.J. Loyola is no stranger to Fr. Lovely, however, for he taught here several years ago as a Scholastic.

THERE'S A HAPPY LAND

That was the thought that filled the hearts of returning Loyolans upon hearing of the death of Fr. Cornell, S.J. He died on June 13, at the age of 74. Fr. Cornell entered the Jesuit order in 1898, and took his final vows in 1913. At Loyola he held the position of physics teacher for 25 years. He will long be remembered for the kindness he extended to all.

OCTOBER, 1945

COLUMBUS AND FLANAGAN TOPS

NEW PRESIDENT TAKES OFFICE

Columbus discovered America and Loyola discovered Flanagan in the hallowed month of October. Flanagan, DeCaluwe, and Bireley captured the positions of President, Vice-President, and Secretary-Treasurer respectively in the elections for Senior Class Officers. Flanagan, President of the Torch Club, and star halfback on the football team, came close to becoming the unanimous choice of the senior class, receiving a great plurality of the votes cast.

Seven Come Eleven

That's the way the time-tested formula goes, and we shook up the school for the tremendously successful Seventh War Loan Drive and came out on top with a government trophy. A total of $108,500 was turned in and, in return, Loyola received the prized "Two Jima" plaque for patriotism.

LOYOLA'S BASKET BOYS BEGIN

Our dribble mad basketballers got off to an early start in practice this year. Both Mr. Connelly and Mr. Ratterman were busy coaching football at the time and the team began practice alone.

To Be Or Not To Be...

That was the contention of the negative teams in their stand against "Compulsory Military Training," the topic for national high school debating. Affirmative speakers were hep, however, for the "G.I. Jive."

Officers for the debate club were John Hayes, President, Jack Ramos, Vice-President, and Frank Sullivan, Treasurer. Debate handbooks were in demand, and the librarian found herself bombarded for material as Loyola orators prepared themselves to secure a top position in the debate league. Mr. Tracy, S.J., the moderator, has great hope for the club because the majority of the members are seniors, who made up the better part of last year's teams.

OLD NOTRE DAME

"The Fighting Irish" was the theme at the Football Clinic when Elmer Layden, Commissioner of Professional Football, and one of Notre Dame's original four horsemen, talked to the Fathers' Club on football and sportsmanship. Mr. Connelly and the members of the football team acted out various football plays to acquaint the Rambler followers with the intricacies of the rather baffling "T" formation.

O MARY WE CROWN THEE WITH FLOWERS

Loyola, vitalized with Catholic Action; that's the story in Sodality activities, lead by an outstanding group of seniors, and moderated by Fr. Maguire, S.J. The boys are advised by Fr. Rabaut, S.J., Fr. Hussey, S.J., Fr. Legris, S.J., and Mr. Tracy, S.J. Each Faculty member has charge of a different study group, studying various problems ranging from marriage to the Negro problem.

INTO EACH LIFE SOME RAIN MUST FALL

Loyola got its share when they lost a tough one to St. Mels 20 to 6, on a rain-soaked field. The shower turned into a downpour as we suffered at the hands of St. Ignatius and St. Phillips on following weeks. But the storm of defeat let up once or twice, and with the sun shining we downed St. Pats and DePaul in fine order.

Have A Heart

Quite a few Loyola mothers have their hearts in the Mothers' Club. A capacity crowd arrived for the Club's first meeting of the year, held in the gym, and elected Mrs. John F. Bowman as their President. The ladies made plans for a dessert bridge and heard Fr. Walker, S.J. state the Mothers' Club aim: "the providing through the scholarship fund for the aid of Loyola students in financial distress."

WE ARE NOT ALONE

Loyola's football team realized that, so they insisted on devotion to the Blessed Mother, as their intercessor in all the trials in general and football games in particular. The team members went to Mass and Communion on Friday, and in the afternoon, the players, with the student body, recited the rosary and the litany to the Blessed Virgin for their special intentions. Fr. Hussey, S.J., the official Chaplain of the heavyweight squad, originated the idea.

NOVEMBER, 1945

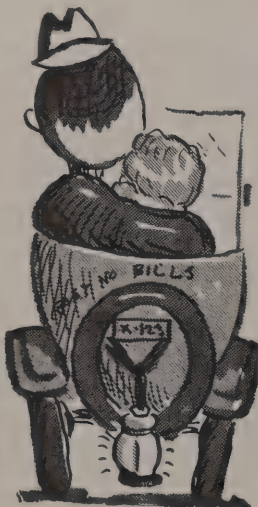

COACH CONNELLY LEAVES LOYOLA

FOOD AND L.A. RULE NOVEMBER

If activities were calories, November brought Loyola a huge Thanksgiving Dinner. Practically every activity was geared to full swing, and school spirit was at its height. There was a place set for almost everyone at Loyola's banquet of first-rate doings. The menu, or may we call it the schedule of events, was endless, with featured dishes being that star-studded parade of talent, the Vaudeville Show.

After The Ball

It was as easy as mince pie for the ticket committee to dispose of all the available bids for the Loyola Homecoming Dance, the annual tinsel and gilt affair of the gridiron season. Sonny Gray and his orchestra took off on the brass riffs and knocked out the solid beats for the three hundred couples who turned out in the gaily decorated "Goal Post Room" of the Loyola gym.

The dance, held annually in honor of the Loyola eleven, was moderated by Fr. Maurice Hussey, S.J. Committee members were Jack Marguerite, DeCaluwe, Flannagan, Roche, Bradley, Bireley, Benbenick, Harry Sullivan and Mitchell.

Two Thousand See Annual Vaudeville

A choice morsel in the school year was the eleventh annual vaudeville show. The All-Star parade made the stop at Loyola's gym on Friday, November 30th.

The stellar cast from stage, screen, and radio included such personalities as Johnny Neblett, famous radio star and dramatic narrator; Two-Ton Baker, the Bombard Music-Maker; the Malone Sisters, alias Brenda and Cobina from the Bob Hope show of a few years ago; Karen Rae, mimic deluxe; Paul Gray, master xylophonist and comedian; and many other attractions. Les Lear, Sr. was the Master-of-Ceremonies.

Two thousand people crowded the gym and were provided with music by the Loyola band. The show was a tremendous success and reaped a greater net than any of the ten preceding shows.

Dancing to the music of Jimmy Green's celebrated dance band immediately followed the show.

GRIDDERS CLOSE WITH A VICTORY

Life was a bowl of cranberries for the Ramblers, who closed the grid season by defeating Holy Trinity 32-6. Tallies were made by Bradley, DeCaluwe, Flannagan, Keshen, and Lindstrom. The game provided a series of thrills.

In the first quarter Loyola fumbled and Holy Trinity recovered, but Loyola regained the ball before the situation became desperate. That's the way the hostilities seemed to go throughout the game, on a very rain-soaked field, one fumble after another. But Loyola gave Mr. Connelly a very happy going away present by finally coming out in full strength and routing the boys from out Holy Trinity way.

The Band Marches

As appealing as an after dinner mint were the lyric strains of Loyola's Marching Band, which made its first appearance in seven years. The band is directed by Mr. Guido Mattei, and through his untiring efforts has reached a skill on a par with other Chicago High School Bands.

Mr. Flynn, S.J., is responsible for organization and discipline in the group, which provides a vital part of school-spirited football games.

LEHR TAKES OVER

Pulling the plum out of the pudding was Lou Lehr, Co-Editor and Chief of the Loyola Prep, who was named Editor-in-Chief of the Grad Prep. This coveted position represents a task of great responsibility. (It also excuses its recipient from a number of study periods.) For information on any of the other posts on the Grad Prep, just turn to the staff listing.

GAVEL OPENS SEASON

Talking turkey to debaters from New Trier, De LaSalle, St. George and Providence were Gavel speakers, who considered the pro and con issues of Compulsory Military Training. Gavel members came out in droves for the Open Forum at Alvernia, when Loyola debated Providence.

In the first intra-mural debate of the year Shaïd and Shelley debated Milligan and O'Grady.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM WINS

The cream in the after dinner coffee of the Cross Country Team was its smashing victories over South Shore and St. Ignatius. South Shore was licked 33 to 22, while St. Ignatius was trounced 35 to 20.

Harry Plate and Bill Lambrecht were outstanding in the meets.

LT. CUMMINS ARRIVES AT LOYOLA

REPLACES "HICKS" AS GRID COACH

Lt. Robert Cummins is the able successor to the football coach, "Hicks" Connelly. Lt. Cummins, who was graduated from Fenwick in 1934, where he was first string halfback, came directly from the Navy. Noteworthy is the fact that Bob played his first game of organized football against Loyola in 1930.

Cummins began a spectacular career of athletic achievement at Xavier U. He held the position of regular halfback in '35, '36, and '37, and led in scoring in '36. He was elected to the Ohio All-Stars and in 1938, the Lieutenant played for 55 minutes with the All-Stars against the Cleveland Rams.

Come A'Runnin'

The Catholic City Championship was the reward for the hard practice and grim determination by Loyola's Cross Country Team. The race was a close one between Loyola and DePaul, but when Bill Lambrecht flashed across the finish line ahead of the McCarthy brothers of DePaul, Loyola's reputation as a competitive team was established and the trophy, emblematic of the championship of Chicago's Catholic High Schools, was theirs.

NO STEAK—ONE MEAT BALL

The magnificent ballroom of the Sovereign Hotel was the scene of the annual football banquet sponsored by the Fathers' Club. All settled back after an enjoyable snack to hear the various speeches and toasts to the 1945-46 squad.

Chuck Collins, who played with Notre Dame's "Four Horsemen" was the main speaker. Team spirit was the subject of the talk by Loyola's retiring coach, "Hicks" Connelly, who awarded the major letters. Willie Roche received a trophy distinguishing him as the team's most valuable player.

PUT THAT RING ON MY FINGER

That was the theme song of the seniors who flocked to Fr. Hussey to claim their eagerly awaited and long due class rings. Many found that in addition to being decorative, the L.A. ring with its deep red stone and massive gold setting, is an excellent substitute for brass knuckles.

ALL WORK AND NO PLAY

That would make the school year dull, so Loyola presented "A Message From Khufu" which merited first place in the All-Catholic One-Act Play Contest sponsored by Loyola. Individual medals were given to the most outstanding actors.

GLOVERS GIRD AS SEASON BEGINS

Coach Jerry Heffernan, under whose expert instruction Loyola's boxing team has won more championships than any other school in the middle west, predicts a smashing hit for this year's team. Jerry, who is the author of several books on pugilism, has been training Loyola boxers for several years.

During the opening weeks of the season, the boxers were taught all the strategic maneuvers involved in defensive as well as offensive action, and the graceful agility and mental acuteness that has always been outstanding in the Loyola boxers.

Chicago Papers Honor Gridders

Chicago newspapers have paid tribute to several Loyola gridders for their outstanding performances this season. In the limelight was Willie Roche who was a starter on the All-Star team. Fred Lindstrom, who merited honorable mention, held down with Willie Roche, first string on the Daily News Catholic North Section Team. Roche was also given honorable mention on the selection of the All-City Team.

CORN IN RUSSIA

There was not a story written for this space, so the Editor thought hard and long and decided to pass on the information that the price of corn in Russia has gone up.

DERBIES WORN ON HEAD THIS YEAR

So goes the story of most derbies, but the Sacred Derby goes to the starving E.T.O. Jesuits.

For parents who would like the inside dope on the hat, here it is from the dope on the inside. The traditional activity originated nine years ago, when Fr. McGuire tipped his hat and someone dropped a dime into it. This amazing discovery prompted him to go a little farther, extending his hat. Finding this very profitable, Fr. McGuire initiated this as an annual all-school activity.

TRACY NEW HOOPSTER MENTOR

EX-LOYOLA STAR RETURNS AS BOSS

The old welcome mat was out, brushed off, and placed on the threshold for Mr. John Tracy. Mr. Tracy is our new basketball coach. Besides, he will teach economics in 3-D and 4-C. His most recent job is that of combined football and basketball coach at Mt. Carmel. His record there is a proof in itself of what we may expect of him in the future.

Mr. Tracy, who incidently is a star basketball player himself, said that if the fellows can show enough school spirit to back the boys on the team, an unprecedented advance in the field of competitive sports will be had at Loyola.

Tests Test Boys

After five days' rest, following the English exams, Loyolans swept through four tests in two days. The uninvited semesters this year were as close as the pages in a book. The pre-exam cramming, which all deny, but doubtless do, was also put on an accelerated scale, due to the proximity of the exams. But they're over now, and they're not too hard to forget.

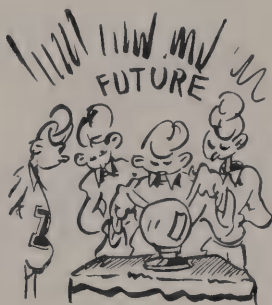

VIRGILIANS VIE FOR HONORS

The heat was on, the lid was opened, and the 1946 Inter-Scholastic Latin Contest began. When the papers were turned in and the results were checked, it was found that Teddy Leonard had placed eleventh and Leslie Lear thirteenth. Both of the boys are members of 3-X, the accelerated course.

Mr. Maher Has Done It Again

Whenever you're looking for a new idea and you don't know where to look, just go and see Mr. Maher, S.J. The genial moderator of the Prep has ideas, which some say are as welcome as the roses in May. But the point that I'm trying to bring out is that Mr. Maher had one of his annual brainstorms this year which are not altogether new, but which furnish surprises to almost everyone involved.

Every year Mr. Maher gets the idea that there should be some new blood on the Prep staff. So out go the faithful seniors who have served their term, and in come the green juniors to do their job in furthering the journalistic talents which they possess. The surprise comes to the seniors and juniors alike, the former feeling that the paper could never do without them, and the latter feeling that the paper could never do with them.

AQUAS PLUNGE IN

Water, water, everywhere—but not a drop to drink! Just let Mr. Wilson catch you trying to drink that precious water he has put in his pool for his swimmers.

It really isn't that bad at all, but when Mr. Wilson gets engrossed in his swimmers he is likely to do anything to somebody that starts drinking his water.

The "splash" boys under his guidance sank Sullivan in their first meet, by a score of 40 to 17.

ALL ARE SAVED; RETREAT IS OVER

To save their souls, and also to save their writing hand from useless exercise, six hundred and some Loyolans attended the annual retreat this year, under the direction of the Rev. Lawrence Chiuminatto and Rev. Jerome Lemmer. Fr. Chiuminatto is the director of the House of Laymen's Retreats in the "White House," St. Louis.

Among the various topics of discussion were death, Heaven and Hell, and how dangerous it is to live a life of sin. The Fathers also explained how short the length of time is in this world compared to eternity in the next.

325 Future Frosh

Some three hundred and twenty-five eager eight-graders took the entrance exams this year, hoping to gain admission for the year 1946-47. Out of this vast sum it is expected that there will be room for only about one hundred and twenty-five. This is due to the overflow in the University rooms, and also the Academy itself has had an over abundance of students which cannot be adequately taken care of.

CLAVER CLUB COMMENCES

One of the most active clubs formed at Loyola in the last few years, is the Claver Club, named after St. Peter Claver, who worked among Negroes. The purpose of the Claver Club is to learn and understand the social relations of the Negroes and the whites, and to bring the Catholic spirit to the dealings of those races.

Among their functions is the teaching of catechism at Friendship House, and also planning inter-racial programs at the same place.

THREE BOXERS FIGHT IN GLOVES

MISS KATHRINE BREMNER

At the beginning of each year, the students file into the registrar's office and have their registration blanks checked. Sitting behind the desk Miss Bremner smiles politely. Most of the students do not see her again for a year, but all know she is working diligently behind the scenes.

MR. SID GORDEN

"Please to smile." This cheery phrase echoes and re-echoes through the grounds. Behind the cover of his camera is Mr. Sid Gordon, the tried and tired school photographer. "Not to move," is the next command and the boys have the choice of attention to Sid or detention by the teacher. Sid's cheery smile and dynamic personality will long be remembered by Loyolans wherever they gather.

Pub Club Gives Publicity Plus

No one will deny that the Publicity Club is one of the hardest working organizations in the school. With its moderator, Mr. Zeitz, S.J., and its President, Jack Lane, this Club serves all the school's functions and activities.

Many of the school's activities of the past few years might have been a flop instead of a success if it hadn't been for the work of this club. Their publicity consists of posters, cartoons, and printing.

Their work in publicizing the football and basketball games, and their posters for the Homecoming and Tulip Trot, mark this organization as one of the foremost in the school.

DER NEW ORDER!!

The line forms on the right. And that jug line which started to form in front of 1-D, around February 25, looked like one of the original nylon lines. The three o'clock opening was always greeted by a line which, if stretched end to end, could reach from Loyola to Alcatraz with ease.

The jug room was so popular on the first few days that it was necessary to open an adjoining room to receive the overflow of the rule writers.

GOOD-BYE LITTLE YELLOW BIRDS

Jumping the gun a little were six members of the senior class. These six boys made up the small mid-year graduating class of 1946-47.

The members of the graduation class were John H. Heller, Rocco V. Ierino, Charles B. McCormick, Eugene L. Mitchell, Fred G. Noz, and Fred Volini. There were no formal exercises this year because Loyola had the mid-year graduations as a wartime emergency measure only. The only formal mid-year graduation on record occurred in 1943.

ROCHE, REICHMAN, SLATTERY BATTLE

Loyola's boxers came through in true fashion in this year's Golden Gloves Tournament, upholding an old tradition. Loyola's entrants were Willie Roche, Jim Slattery, and Phil Reichmann. Each of the trio turned in impressive victories, although they did not reach the finals of the tournament.

Willie Roche received a bye the first night, and then by beating Willie Perry, another Negro boy from Savoy A.C., he gained the right to fight for the North Section Championship. But luck wasn't with Willie in this fight and he went down under the hard blows of Jimmy Edwards, a Savoy boxer.

Jim Slattery turned in two very fine victories before he met his end. Mentionable is the fact that Jim, outweighed and fighting a boy twenty-three years old, proved that Loyola boxers have what it takes. He made up for his lack of experience with his knowledge of boxing technique to win his fight before being beaten in the semi-finals.

Phil Reichmann won his first fight by relentlessly pounding his victim with rights and lefts, until the referee stepped in and called a halt. But Phil took it on the chin on the second night of hostilities, meeting Nori Kitaoka, a fast and furious C.Y.O. boxer. The faster Kitaoka gained the decision, but only after Phil had put up a stubborn fight.

BAND PLAYS ON

The members of the band have been giving most of their time to rehearsing their solos in preparation for the annual solo contest held each spring at Kimball Hall. Some of the fellows will also represent Loyola in the All-Catholic Band, which is composed of the top musicians of most of the Catholic High School Bands of Chicago.

The band played an engagement at the St. Ignatius Parish Gym, for the University Council of the Knights of Columbus, and it proved such a success that they were booked for a return engagement in Mid-March for the Parochial Basketball Tournament in the parish gym.

MARCH, 1946

AT L.A. THE PLAY'S THE THING

The stupendous and gratifying popularity of last month's Campus Personalities has forced the editors to get out the shovels and clear a path through the mountains of fan mail, stagger to their typewriters and peck out the March edition of this Peglerian column.

MISS PERRY

Hitler had his Gestapo; Father Mangold has the 1-D room; but the library has Miss Perry. Many and colorful are the legends that have grown up around this guardian of her demesne.* Volumes could be written about these legends, but we shall limit ourselves—and you—to one: The story goes that one trembling Freshman, despite the lack of stained glass windows, devoutly genuflected as he entered the sacred and silent atmosphere. Immediately the hallowed quiet of those halls was shattered by that Medusean battle cry: Oouuuut! The Freshman fainted dead away. Still, for good old-fashioned peace and quiet there is no place like the library—absolutely none.

* Demesne: Any region over which sovereignty is exercised.

AL RUMBOLT

Students of 4-A Physics are used to having their first period classes interrupted by a rich baritone voice originating from beneath a pile of papers. If we look a little deeper we find that it is no other than Loyola's returned war vet, our engineer, Al Rumbolt. Ask him why he sings and he says, "I'm happy!" If that's enough for Al it's enough for me.

My Friends . . .

"Friends, Romans, Countrymen, lend me your money." These famous words call to mind a great oration, and Loyola's gym resounds with the clear voices of youthful Ciceros.

In the senior division speeches were made for social reform, attacks on Communism were plentiful and digs at Compulsory Military Training were frequent.

In the Sophomore and Freshmen division, well known poems and stories were recited. Some were humorous, while others were along a more serious vein.

This affair each year is heralded with acclaim, and anticipation for this event is always great among the faculty and students.

I-M PUGS BATTLE FOR SCHOOL TITLE

Splat! Thud! Then the refs voice en-toning the long count. The scene could be nowhere but the L.A. I-M boxing tournament. Finals were held in both the frosh-soph, and the junior-senior divisions. When Harry Sullivan, the senior heavyweight champ was interviewed, he drew himself into an upright position and said, "Dah-aa."

One of the best fights of the tourney was the contest between Ray "Robert Taylor" Flanagan and "Bo-bo" Cleary. The fight was close all the way, in fact one of the judges gave the winner, Cleary, the bout by only one-half a point.

ALIAS THE DEACON GIVEN BY STUDENTS

Shakespeare said it, and the Dramatic Club did it. "Alias the Deacon," a play consisting of a prologue and three acts, was presented by the Loyola Dramatic Club in the Community Theater on the nights of March 8th and 9th.

The play was a comedy. The prologue took place in a boxcar between Denver and Kansas City; and the "Commercial House," a hotel in a small Missouri town, formed the setting of the remainder of the play.

The entire production was under the direction of Mr. Walter L. Bamberger, director and establisher of the Dramatic Club, who worked long and hard to make it the success that it was.

The title role, "The Deacon," was played by Frank Sullivan. Other members of the cast were: Frank Rolfes, Gene Dougherty, Ray Flanagan, Romain Waymel, Dick Keshen, James Elward, Jack Ramos, Ed Hyland, Don Jones, Chuck Bower, Jack Rogers, and Jack Nash.

Silent Sufferers See Amateur Show

"Yes we have no bananas." And we didn't have any rotten tomatoes either. We didn't need them. Who would think of throwing such things at our own Amateur Vaudeville performers. The boys of the forgotten art really proved themselves to be worthwhile entertainers.

Trios, duets, foursomes and singles paraded their talents in almost every imaginable type of vaudeville. But the old master, humor, prevailed over all others. This affair is presented each year by the Fathers' Club.

Casey At The Bat

Loyola almost returned to baseball this year. But after due thought and consultation the athletic board arrived at the conclusion that all the difficulties could not be ironed out in time to put a team on the field. Foremost among the obstacles was the lack of a practice field. And secondly spring football, basketball, and track made manpower very scarce

SO LONG FOR AWHILE—THATS ALL

"DANCING WITH A Queen Of The May DOLLY..."

"It was just a neighborhood dance, but O what it seemed to be." That was probably the thought of every Loyolan as he recalled fond memories of strutting into the gym with his best girl for the Annual Tulip Trot.

"A Sentimental Journey" was made to Loyola's 'Greenhouse' by some three hundred couples, for this featured social event of the spring season.

The music was furnished by Johnny Olins and his band, who put on a great display of talent, to the enjoyment of the hepcats as well as those who like the slower tunes.

Ten Men And A Ball

The faculty had the temerity to challenge the seniors. You take it from here, Mort. Too many costly errors and lack of practice told—boy, what it told. The final score was 12 to 3 with the faculty maintaining afterward that they would do much better in a re-match. Father Walker clouted a triple. A week later the faculty challenged the juniors (one junior claimed they were working their way down to the grammar school kids) but this time the tale was different, the faculty coming out on top 9 to 8.

There was an added incentive this year at the May devotions to pray to God to thank Him for all His blessings. Last year we prayed for the end of the war that we might have peace on the earth, and God granted our request.

This year we thanked God for doing this and also asked Him to keep the peace secure, so that never again will Loyola have Gold Stars on its service flag.

GOODBYE LOYOLA WE HATE TO GO

The fellows might have met a guy named June, but the only thing anyone was thinking of then was the summer vacation. The seniors were getting ready for that occasion of all occasions, graduation. The boys just couldn't wait to get their hands on that piece of paper with the magic letters spelling DIPLOMA.

While the Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors were only thinking of getting out, and enjoying the months of wonderful freedom, the seniors were being more serious, planning their futures as to work and colleges.

This year brought many difficulties to the outgoing seniors in their picking of colleges, due to the overcrowded conditions which prevail throughout the country.

A Girl, A Guy . . . !

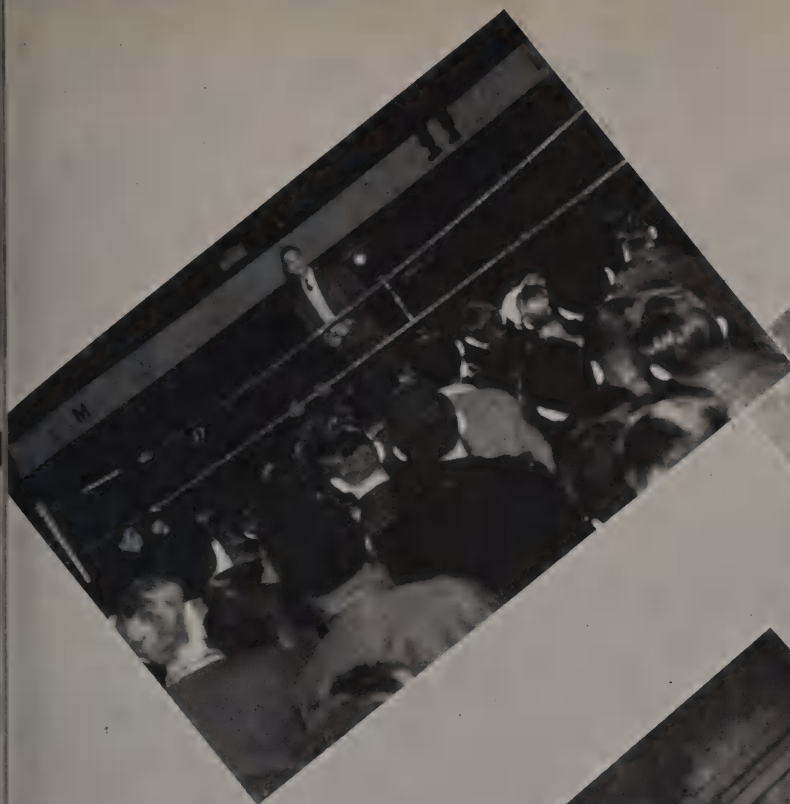

The big night for the upperclassmen, the Senior Prom, flew by on wings of song on—ah, who could forget—twas the fourth day of June in the year of Our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and forty-six. The guys and gals were there in formal attire, the guys in white coats, that is, and the gals in taffeta and organdie and silk, etc. Ten bucks for the bid, but with the meal and ALL it was worth it. Johnny Marlowe was the music maker and the Furniture Mart the spot.

CLAIM STAKING

Hallicrafters and Very High Frequency

Based on the facts in the case, Hallicrafters can stake out a very strong claim to leadership in the very high frequency field. The facts include such things as the Model S-37, FM-AM receiver for very high frequency work. The Model S-37 operates from 130 to 210 Mc.—the highest frequency range of any general coverage commercial type receiver.

Hallicrafters further supports its claim to domination in the high frequency field with the Model S-36A, FM-AM-CW receiver. The 36A operates from 27.8 to 143 Mc., covers both old and new FM bands and is the only commercially built receiver covering this range.

Further developments in this direction can soon be revealed—adding further support to Hallicrafters claim to continued supremacy in the high frequency field.
